

Peace & Unity

Our words and our actions directly impact the peace and unity we experience in our lives.

So how can we live in such a way as to promote and preserve peace and unity in our home, church, and other places where relationships exist in our lives?

In this past Sunday's message in Acts 21 we see how Paul was faced with the choice between promoting and preserving peace or promoting fanning into flame strife and division.

If you're dealing with strife in your life but desire to live in peace and harmony with others, take a listen to the podcast by clicking the link below.

My prayer for you is that you'll live your life in such a way so that in all you say and all you do you'll bless, praise, encourage, pray for, and build up others.

The world around us is in such desperate need of these things. Be an instrument of peace and unity today.
